Adopting innovation at Lightforce

Doblin and the ten types of innovation. Innovating beyond product alone. The Lightforce journey towards disintermediation in both Australia and the USA via the use of technology.

Chief Executive Officer TicketyView

Matt has experience in management and strategy across multiple industries; eventually establishing his own development and marketing agency, then adding a digital video production business to his interests, and more recently joining the VR/AR agency TicketyView, as their CEO. With the three business ventures running consecutively, Matt is exposed to innovation and application of technology in a vast array of business sectors.

Jane Brabham

CEO and Founder Innovation Union

Jane is an Australian Innovation leader and is the CEO & Founder of Innovation Union, an Australian – helping organisations solve big problems through innovation tools and methods. An ex Adelaide technology consulting firm founder, she's spent the last 6 years leading innovation across large scale entities such as IAG, UNSW, Kimberly Clarke and Qantas along with board advisory positions on two Australian start ups. A background in Technology and Business Consulting she's seen the fast paced shift in roles and expertise corporates are now looking for from digital / technology experience. She's disrupted herself with new job titles, role descriptions, new ways of working, language, outputs and governance models. Proving personal change is constant and uncomfortable but the only way to succeed.
